Past Life Research

W • Feb 15-22 • 6 to 9 p.m.

Shields 107 • Instructor: Sandy March

Fee: $49

Many cultures believe we are souls having a physical experience in this time and place. These experiences can span centuries. Ever wonder who you were in a past life? Do you obsess over a certain time in history? Why are you drawn to certain locations, countries or areas in the US? Have you ever just met someone yet feel like you have known them forever? Chances are you feel drawn to those things because you had a past life experience. This class will teach students on the proficient use of using a pendulum and charts to discover who you were in past lives. It's meant to be a fun class. Week One: students will learn more about those feelings described above and how to use a pendulum proficiently. Students may bring a pendulum, or one will be provided for class use only. Week Two: students will learn how to incorporate charts with the pendulum and how to make inquiries using them and other tools. Students that are interested in continuing their practice can purchase an optional Past Life Research Kit which will include laminated charts, instructions and crystal pendulum for a small fee.

We suggest bringing your own yoga mat, but can furnish one if necessary.

Mindfulness and Meditation

W • Jan 25 - Mar 15 • 6 - 7:30 p.m.

Taylor 276 • Instructor: Robin Lopez, LCSW

Fee: $89

We generally think of mindfulness as an idea that has been around for thousands of years, originally emerging out of Buddhist traditions. There is current research in the field of neuroscience showing that mindfulness might actually impact how our brains work, allowing the prefrontal cortex to have greater control over the amygdala, commonly referred to as the primal and reactionary lizard brain. These changes can have an impact on many aspects of human experience. Mindfulness meditation is paying attention to your experiences in a way that allows you to respond rather than react. It is a quality of inner-stillness that is always available, even when life circumstances feel out of control and chaotic. Learn how to incorporate mindfulness meditation into your wellness routine. Develop and strengthen your mind, increase your ability to focus, recognize and manage your emotions, make better decisions, and have more empathy in your relationships. Please wear comfortable clothing and bring a yoga mat to class.

The Perfect Path to Healing: Body, Mind, Soul And Spirit

Th or S • Jan 26 – Mar 2 • Th from 6:30 – 8 p.m. or S from 10 a.m. – Noon

Taylor 248 • Instructor: Kathleen McKevitt

Fee: $49

This course is based on recent consensus of medical, psychological, natural, nutritional and physical agreements between doctors and patients that at least 30 percent of healing is related to what we as humans decide to do to help ourselves heal. In addition to instructor Kathleen McKevitt, speakers will include specialists and doctors from St. Luke's hospital, chiropractic and acupuncture specialists, and physical advisors (yoga, gym, tai chi etc.) Each session will include one specialist speaker, one particular subject, such as nutrition or physical activity, and overall and scientific information related to healing. Instructor Kathleen McKevitt is a stage four breast cancer survivor, which included a fall that resulted of a broken hip and arm during the cancer healing process. Kathleen's background as a minister, writer, and ten-year natural healing professional in acupuncture and massage led her to turn quickly to natural methods as well as those supplied by physicians. Note – Saturday's class will be a repeat of the previous Wednesday's class, so you will have a choice on which day of the week suits your schedule better.

Introduction To Tai Chi

T • Mar 7 – Apr 18 • 7 – 8:30 p.m.

Gym 236 • Instructor: Janice Willoughby

Researching & Clearing Negative Energies

W • Apr 12-19 • 6 – 9 p.m.

Shields 107 • Instructor: Sandy March

Fee: $49

Negative Energy is a powerful dark profound energy that does not feel good. We can usually tell right away when we “don't feel like ourselves anymore” or you suddenly “don't feel comfortable in your own skin”. These could be signs that a negative energy has found its way to you and is settling in for the long haul! This class will teach students the many types of negative energies that exist in the universe, how to identify them, and tools on how to remove them. This class is highly recommended for all levels of Reiki students as an add-on to your healing toolkit. Past Life Research Class students also are welcome as you will already be familiar with using pendulum. However, the class is open to anyone with an open mind or curiosity about our amazing Universe.

Geology Underfoot in Southern Idaho With Shawn Willsey

It should come as no surprise that Southern Idaho is a geologic treasure trove. Etched in its rugged mountains, stark lava fields, and cascading rivers is the evidence of amazing geologic events. The scenic and variable landscape of southern Idaho records tales of cataclysmic floods, massive volcanic outbursts, huge glaciers, meteorite impacts, and ancient sequoia forests, as well as housing some of the oldest and youngest rocks of the western U.S. Join CSI geology professor and author, Shawn Willsey, as he unveils many of these stories from his new book, Geology Underfoot in Southern Idaho, a comprehensive guide to 23 fascinating geologic sites within the southern half of the Gem State.

Gooding County Faces the Other Enemy During WWI With Kelly Kast

From 1917 to 1919 the world went to war against one of the deadliest enemies it has ever faced. An enemy so efficient in its ability to kill, it would take months from the time it killed its first victim until scientists were even able to identify it. This enemy killed indiscriminately, but it was especially efficient at killing the healthiest of the world's younger adults. No nation could defeat it, and it remains undefeated to this day. During its murderous rampage, this enemy killed an estimated 50 million people. Because this enemy could not be seen or heard, most learned of its existence as it tore through towns, villages and cities, leaving a trail of death and despair behind. At the time, news reporters called it the Great Spanish Flu. Where this flu actually started is a debate among scientists, but the damage it caused is undebatable and reverberates to this day. Gooding County did not escape this enemy unscathed. Join historian Kelly Kast to hear how the people of Gooding County rallied, as they have from the time of the first settlers, to assist the survivors and keep their towns and their county moving forward.

George Armstrong Custer With Rod Howard

George Armstrong Custer was America's most flamboyant and possibly bravest general. He was the most decorated soldier of the Civil War, and arguably the hero of Gettysburg. He is considered by some to be the greatest Indian fighter of the American Plains. Was the Battle of Little Bighorn a mistake or insubordination? Join returning lecturer Rod Howard and you can decide for yourself.

THE CSI STAGE DOOR SERIES

A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO EXPERIENCE AN INTIMATE EVENING OF THE ARTS.

Once a month, the CSI Fine Arts Center will present a different division in the Fine Arts Department - dance, theater, music (and maybe even literature or visual arts!) in a series of arts experiences where both performers and audience members are on the stage itself. These performances are designed to be thought-provoking and a little out of the ordinary in different ways - whether it's because of the setting, the material performed, the way they are presented, or the collaborations involved.

INSIDE EARTH, WIND, AND FIRE

January 19 @ 7:30 p.m

Join Inspirata Dance Project for another "inside" peek into their 2017 production "Earth, Wind, and Fire: Immersive Environments." For this multi-disciplinary production, Inspirata will be collaborating with a variety of artists, including the pottery of Bill and Sheryl West, the percussion of Scott Farkas, the visual art of Mike Youngman, the choreography of Kiah Carpenter, the poetry of Shane Brown and Camille Barigar, and more. Don't miss this opportunity to get a look at the creative process.

DEAR ELIZABETH

February 22 @ 7:30 p.m

In 1947 at a dinner party in New York, poets Robert Lowell and Elizabeth Bishop met and began an artistic partnership that lasted until Lowell's death in 1977. Their lengthy friendship is documented in thirty years of beautiful correspondence, collected in the book Words in Air. Award winning playwright Sarah Ruhl dramatized these letters in the play Dear Elizabeth. This play brings the beauty of friendship, writing, and artistic creation to the audience through the poetic words of Lowell and Bishop, and Ruhl's powerful imagery. We bring this important work to CSI in a staged reading through the collaborative efforts of many artists, including: set design by Will Ledbetter, Development Assistant with Idaho Shakespeare Festival; music design and composition by Brent Jensen, CSI jazz professor; and lighting design by Jud Harmon, CSI Fine Arts Theatrical Technician. The play will be performed by Shane Brown and Camille Barigar.

Proceeds for the performances will benefit CSI fine arts academic programs. This is a chance to see the CSI faculty outside of the classroom as well as guest artists, talented members of the community, the best of the best students, or hidden gems in an intimate setting on the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium stage where the artists are performing.

SOILED DOVES

March 16 @ 7:30 p.m

"...for the prodigal daughter there is no return. Were she with her wasted form and bleeding feet to drag herself back to home, she, the fallen and the lost, which would be her welcome?" from The Soiled Dove Plea, Temple Houston, 1899

In 2011, The Nevada Shakespeare Company wrote produced an original play, Voices in the Life, based on interviews and research exploring the history and cultural impact of prostitution and human trafficking in the state of Nevada. CSI's Shane Brown and Camille Barigar, in collaboration with Cameron Crain, founder of The Nevada Shakespeare Festival, and Norman Stephens, executive producer of the original play, have revitalized the project, and rewritten the script, to explore the same concepts in the Magic Valley. Join us as members of the Twin Falls theater community perform a table reading of the original script Soiled Doves. This script promises to illuminate the lives of the women who have worked in the prostitution industry and been coerced into dark world of human trafficking, as well as explore the implications for the women themselves, and our rural community as a whole.

THE MATHEMATICS OF RESONANT BODIES

April 20 @ 7:30 p.m

All noise contains pure tone. In this concert, CSI faculty member Scott Farkas performs John Luther Adams' foundational work for solo percussion. This evening length piece for solo percussion and pre-recorded sounds searches to find and reveal the choirs of complex inner voices of pure tones within the complex sonorities of percussion instruments. Listeners will traverse the topographies of eight unique sonic fields derived from the inherent resonances of the instruments involved: Snare Drums, large Bass Drums, Triangles, Cymbals, large Gong, and even a Siren. This evening of music will be at once aggressive and introspective; bombastic and crystalline soft; hurdling and still. Audience members will be thoroughly engaged in an evening of dramatic musical performance that will leave them discussing and reveling in the possibilities of music and sound itself at its conclusion.

Tickets are $10 for adults or $5 for CSI or high school and under students for individual performances or $70 for adults or $35/students for season tickets. Tickets are available at the CSI Box Office, by calling 732-6288, at the door, or by going online to <http://tickets.csi.edu>. Seating is limited to 100 people.
