Spring Break Adventure!

Join Camille Barigar and CSI Professor Shane Brown this Spring Break in Portugal and Spain!

In Portugal and Spain, every step is a history lesson of its own—from Lisbon's Moorish labyrinth of narrow streets to Seville's impeccably preserved mosaics. The trail of breathtaking views and architectural wonders continues in Madrid, a city whose youthful crowds mix with a regional history of Muslim, Jewish, and Christian influences. In bustling Barcelona, step inside the playful and imaginative mind of Antoni Gaudí. CSI professor Shane Brown will be leading a Spring Break trip to Spain and Portugal in March 2019, that you don't want to miss. This trip will be 11 days and will include Lisbon, Seville, Madrid, and Barcelona, with a mixture of professionally guided tours and free time to explore each of the destinations. Prices include airfare, transportation, room and board, and entrance into museums. This trip will be beautiful and unforgettable and is a great price for this type of tour. If the 2017 Spring Break to Italy was any indication, we can expect new friendships and great adventures. There will be an informational meeting in August that will be announced over email. For more information, including the link to the tour, please contact Shane at 732-6774, sbrown@csi.edu, or stop in and visit in office 81 in the Fine Arts building on the CSI campus for a brochure and specific information.

There will be an informational meeting about this trip in the Fine Arts Recital Hall (Room 119) at 6 p.m. on August 8.

SACRED GEOMETRY

S • Sept 1 • 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Shields 107 • Instructor: Sandy March

Sacred geometry has existed in many forms across the ages. The word ‘Geo-metry’ comes from the Greek words Geos meaning ‘Earth’ and Metron meaning ‘To measure’, which together literally translate as the ‘Measuring of the earth’ or ‘Earthly measurements’, an art which was traditionally restricted to the priest-hood. Sacred geometry involves sacred universal patterns used in the design of everything in our reality, most often seen in sacred architecture and sacred art. The basic belief is that geometry and mathematical ratios, harmonics and proportion are also found in music, light, cosmology. This value system is seen as widespread even in prehistory, a cultural universal of the human condition. In this class we discuss what sacred geometry is and how it affects your everyday lives, within our home, work place, music, our bodies and much more. We will learn how to transmute the negative effects in our daily surroundings using sacred geometry. Requirements: Pendulum if you have one. Pendulums will be available to borrow or purchase at the class as well.

PROJECT FLUX: SENTENCES

October 24, 2018 @ 7:30 p.m Art begets art. . . . Over the course of last year, Project Flux director Lydia Sakolsky-Basquill sat in on the creative writing classes at the IDOC state penitentiary taught by CSI instructor Shane Brown. Inspired by that experience and the writing of the prisoners, Lydia choreographed a full-length dance performance for Project Flux, a contemporary dance company based in Boise, that explores regret, longing, redemption, and life behind bars.

A DAIRY HOME COMPANION

November 27, 2018 @ 7:30 p.m It's all in a name! A Dairy Home Companion will follow the format of the perennial favorite "A Prairie Home Companion" with some changes to fit southern Idaho. The show will include music, comedy, monologues and more! Join us (Comedy veterans Steve Kaminski and Katie Neff "Neffinski") along with some of your favorite local musicians, comedians and other performing artists as we present a satirical, and perhaps idyllic, look at life in the Magic Valley.

ANGST

January 24, 2019 @ 7:30 p.m

"The wind is howling with the agony of a dying soul
And the earth is quaking
in the memory of forgotten dreams"

— Camille Barigar, age 16.

Dust off your old poetry, journals, original lyrics, and artwork, because we are taking a journey to the teenage years. In Angst, you'll get the chance to watch grown adults sharing the treasured (or regrettable) keepsakes of their most embarrassing adolescent memories preserved for posterity in hidden corners of closets around Twin Falls. Through the laughter, and, who are we kidding, probably some tears, we will explore themes of alienation, rebellion, obsession, and identity crisis and how these experiences in our formative years shaped us. . . And come to realize those times when we thought we were all alone, laying on our beds writing to the sounds of The Smiths, that maybe we weren't so different from everybody else after all. Featuring a live band and music from the '80s and '90s from Musical Director Adam Crofts. Note — Please start going through your old notebooks and watch facebook and email for auditions for Angst. Email cbarigar@csi.edu for more information

THE SECOND COMING OF JOAN OF ARC

April 18, 2019 @ 7:30 p.m She led an army to victory, crowned a king, took on the entire Catholic Church. . . and was dead by 19. Joan of Arc is the MOST documented figure of the 15th century, and yet myths about her pervade the history books, to this day. In The Second Coming of Joan of Arc, by Carolyn Gage, the audience will discover the real Jeanne Romee, and through her story, the brutal institutional misogyny that women continue to face. Drawn from the detailed records of her two trials—including hundreds of testimonies by all involved in her short life—The Second Coming finally tells the truth about the simple-minded, virginal peasant girl, who was anything but. Jennifer Miller performs this one-woman show that explores not only the experience of "Joan of Arc," but relates that experience to contemporary women. Join her and discover the defiant, irreverent, clever, and unrepentant Jeanne, who remained unfailingly true to her own visions.
